SPECIAL GROUP COACHING SERIES

Program Objective:

The Career Brand™ has created a powerful group coaching program for upwardly mobile professionals. This robust program is designed to build your career brand to strengthen you for the next promotional opportunity.

The Career Brand™ coaching programs are strategically built using The Career Brand™ model in conjunction with The Career Brand 360™ evaluation tool. These hands-on sessions are built specifically for each participant. Upon completing this program, participants will:

- ❖ Deep dive the scope of their desired role
- ❖ Identify their personal career brand strengths
- ❖ Identify their personal career brand weaknesses
- ❖ Discover their personal career brand sabotaging behaviors
- ❖ Identify their personal career gaps
- ❖ Critically select mentors which best match to their specific career need
- ❖ Build short and long term strategies for building their brand for advancement opportunities

How is our career branding model different?

The Career Brand model is built on 4 elements and 64 measurable attributes. Our web-based application provides a comprehensive report which illustrates the similarities and differences in how a person sees their own brand verses how other people see their brand.

Imagine being able to discover how your coworkers and managers truly view you. What if you could review a report that communicates how you are viewed on attributes such as judgement, business knowledge, service quality, productivity, teachability, verbal skills, and drive? Imagine having a report at your disposal that illustrates how you see yourself compared to how people (you've worked with) see you.

The power of coaching with this new tool is endless.

Scope of Program:

- ❖ One Hour Pre-Coaching Kickoff Conference Call
- ❖ Pre-Work: Access to The Career Brand 360™ Evaluation Program
- ❖ Six 2 hour in-person or webinar coaching sessions (twice the coaching time as our regular one-on-one program.

Kickoff Conference Call:

A successful program includes good structure, good content, and good instruction. To ensure you have the best possible experience, a Kickoff Conference Call is scheduled for certification candidates to walk participants through the program. This kickoff program provides a foundational overview of each step within the program. During this meeting, each participant will be provided information on the upcoming meetings.

The Pre-work:

Starting two weeks prior to the program, each candidate must complete The Career Brand 360™ web-based evaluation. The evaluation requires the completion of a self-evaluation and obtaining feedback from at least three individuals they respect. This is an absolutely essential component of the program and must be completed to move forward with the sessions.

By completing The Career Brand 360™ evaluation, candidates obtain a detailed report which encompasses their personal career brand strengths and weaknesses.
