

L A T R I C E C O L L I N S

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT BIO

Latrice Collins has devoted her life to growing businesses and advancing individuals around the world. She has created a legacy of executing measurable results and igniting synergetic teams. Latrice has lead programs targeted to inspire high-performing employee valued environments. Her audiences have included teens, college students, community citizens, professionals, multi-nationals, and corporate leaders.

Corporate Operations and People Development Roles

- Global Sales B2C Talent Development Senior Manager
- Process Improvement Senior Vice President
- Human Resource Director
- Performance Improvement Vice President
- Service Excellence Vice President
- Learning and Talent Development Vice President
- Performance Improvement Vice President

Academic Experience

- Adjunct Professor, Paul Quinn College (Dallas, TX)
 - Managerial Marketing
 - Strategic Planning and Policies
- Adjunct Professor, Columbia College (Chicago, IL)
 - Writing for Managers

Orator (or Training) Partial Client List

- Society of Human Resource Management
- 100 Black Men of America, Inc.
- The Fashion Connection, Inc.
- Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation (EGPAF)
- National Speakers Association, Inc.
- Sigma Gamma Rho (Teen)
- Project Management Institute
- Presbyterian Church (USA) Senior Executive Committee Steering Committee
- National Speakers Association

Additional Accomplishments

- Television Talk Show Host of “I Got Your B.A.A.C. (Business Acumen, Attitude & Communications)”
- Author of six Career Branding books and workshop series
- Author of four personal development books
- Creator of nation-wide Personal Succession Planning Academy

Topics

- Emotional Intelligence
- Leading without Authority
- Leading through Five Values
- Brand Ignition
- State of the Business Addresses
- Mental Wellness Unleashed
- Developing Platform Skills
- Developing Instructional Designers