Latrice Collins

Corporate & Value Driven Bio

Latrice Collins has devoted her entire life to growing businesses and developing people. She has been a result driven executive in the Finance, Technology, and Healthcare industries; serving in the human resources, corporate strategies, and talent development fields. Her career success has included Fortune 100 company roles such as:

- Global Sales B2C Talent Development Senior Manager
- Process Improvement Senior Vice President
- Human Resource Director
- Performance Improvement Vice President
- Service Excellence Vice President
- Learning and Talent Development Vice President

In addition to her corporate career, she has authored 9 career development books and served as an adjunct college professor, local television talk show host, executive coach, and community volunteer.

However, like so many of you, her journey has been filled with obstacles. She's had to battle cancer, care for an ailing parent, and raise a child diagnosed with various mental health conditions. Latrice says she understands firsthand the act of "wearing the mask of wellness" while secretly battling the mental strains we all go through of carrying everyday life burdens. Today, Latrice uses her collective experiences to help individuals and leaders identify strategies for growing their career WHILE being a personal champion for their overall well-being.

Latrice earned her Executive MBA with distinction from New York institute of Technology (NYIT), her Bachelor of Science from University of Illinois at Chicago. Today Latrice serves as a consultant to various firms. She's an avid foodie, an empty nester, and lives in Dallas, TX, with her wonderful dog, Blue.
